BLACK BUCKET brew

Issue #47

Amber Ale Cheese Beer Bread & How To Brew Your Own Craft Beer (part 2)

Hey!

Beer bread, anyone?

I can remember the first time that I had beer bread -- good stuff it was!

Bake Black Bucket Brew's "Amber Ale Cheddar Cheese Beer Bread" recipe below for a great twist on beer bread. With biscuit malt, sundried tomatoes and Kalamata olives, too. Yep - it's craft beer goodness in soiid form.

Plus, let's dive right back into the home brewing of your own craft beer primer and start brewing your own today!

Coming up soon - a Mexican Fiesta. Don't miss the party!

How To Make Your Own Craft Beer (part 2)

Three Types of Home Brewing

by David Ivey

Craft Beer - Make It Yourself!
Let's jump back into home brewing your own craft beer with the completion of -

Make Your Own Craft Beer
Let's review from last week, the three types of methods to home brew beer:

Easy home brewing is done using a basic "kit-in-a-can". (Sort of like a dump-in-a-bowl dessert mix.)

If you want really good beer, this is not the best choice. But it can be a good place to start for the complete beginner. Start your adventure by using a kit like one of these:

1. Easy home brewing is done using a basic "kit-in-a-can". (Sort of like a dump-in-a-bowl dessert mix.)

2. Intermediate brewing processes use "extract", which is best used with "steeping grains", for added flavor and/or color.

This is a good place to start if you have any type of cooking or chemistry experience.

By experience, I do mean a good experience. If you burned the pasta, or blew up the lab, you may want to start at the basic level. If your experience is good, try one of these:

Can you say sweet and easy?

This Chocolate Stout Milkshake recipe is just that. I can only imagine the sensations that'll excite your synapses when tasting and enjoying this delicious treat.

The Yard Glass

The Yard Glass or Long Glass, so called because it is about one yard (3 feet) long – is of English origin. Long and slender, it has a trumpet-shaped opening and a bulbous bottom that is supported in a wooden stand.

ISSUE #71 Plan For Six Months, High Impact Spruce-Ups, and more.

PLAN FOR SIX MONTHS FROM NOW

You may wonder why I am mentioning this, but believe it or not, we are already working on projects that "must be done for the holidays." The year is half over, and it's hard to believe that we'll soon be seeing Christmas decorations in the department stores. Time moves quickly, doesn't it?

July is the perfect time to plan for your year-end family gatherings. Maybe it's your powder room, holiday tableware or a kitchen remodel.

To help you prepare for the laughter, warmth and holiday cheer, I've created High Impact Spruce-Ups for Holiday Entertaining in Style. It's the perfect time to start your project so you have time to relax before your company arrives.

Ho, Ho, Ho!

HIGH IMPACT SPRUCE-UPS

Update your powder room with a new mirror, a new paint color, or wallpaper for a quick and easy makeover. Love this mirror from local resource Susan Wheeler (her products can also be found on 1stdibs.com). Make a statement in your powder room or entry.

RECEIVE 1 ADDITIONAL HOUR CONSULTATION

As a special thank you when you refer a friend. Since fall is our busiest season, don't wait to schedule a consultation. We want to save time for you.

Offer expires August 15th

Enhance your views both inside and outside with window treatments in your dining room and family room. A favorite of mine is the Duette Architella Honeycomb shade.

Rearrange your furniture, rugs and accessories for a quick update and add decorative pillows that express your personality.

Be voted the most fabulous host by adding special touches to your guest bedrooms and bathroom. Update your bedside table lamps with a new style and 3-way bulbs for reading, add an iPod docking station, a carafe and glass, a vase for fresh flowers, a guest book for special memories of the visit, and crisp new bed linens.

The Linen Gallery online is my favorite go-to resource.

Please let us know how we can help you plan for the holidays. When you call us by August 1st, your first 2 hours of consultation are complimentary (when you retain us to assist you.)

As always we value your readership and wish you success. Get inspired!

Until next week,
